DIALOGUE OF SALVATION

Catholics Called to Evangelise

The mandate of the Holy Catholic Church is clear, that every Christian, by virtue of his baptismal promise, has an obligation to share his faith with the rest of the world through dialogue and proclamation. The Gospel is Good News that must be transmitted in its entirety and in all clarity. But do we understand the people that we need to evangelise? And how should we share our faith with them in a way that respects their dignity and conscience? How should we share our faith with people in a personal way? Also, how can evangelisation take place through our families? In this six-session course, Deacon Sherman Kuek explains some of these foundational matters that pertain to the Christian obligation to live our lives as a dialogue of salvation.

COURSE SPEAKER

The Rev. Deacon Dr Sherman Kuek offs is a Permanent Deacon of the Catholic Church, a Secular Franciscan and a theologian. He is incardinated in the Diocese of Melaka-Johor where he serves as Director of the Diocesan Pastoral Institute. He spends much of his time giving catechetical instruction through speaking, writing and media production. His Doctor of Theology degree, majoring in Theology and Social Theory, was conferred by Trinity Theological College (Singapore). He blogs on www.shermankuek.net.
